

The Mid Ohio Writing Project Tech Team Presents:

Tech Tuesdays

Are you a teacher? Are you interested in using technology in your classroom? Then you're invited!

6:30 – 8:30 p.m., Tuesdays in February, March and April

Ohio State University-Mansfield, Riedl Hall 135

There is no charge, but space is limited. Please call the MOWP office (419.755.4378) to register for one or more classes or e-mail Terri Godby (osuteach@gmail.com) or Cheryl Canada (canada.7@osu.edu)

Digital Storytelling – February 6 – 6:30-8:30 p.m.

Come to a mini-lesson on digital storytelling where you will take your writing and transform it into a movie using the program Movie Maker. Learn the steps involved and the process your students would go through. Explore, experience, discuss, and share questions about this awesome tool.

Terri Godby

Hannah Crawford Elementary - Colonel Crawford Schools

Judy Golden

GTA Dept. of Education T&L - The Ohio State University, Mansfield

Podcasting for Beginners – March 4 – 6:30-7:30 p.m.

Podcasting technology is growing in popularity among students and adults alike. This session will provide a brief overview of how teachers can use podcasting in the classroom. Participants will explore the basics of creating their own podcasts.

Keith Wayne

Mt. Gilead Middle School - Mt. Gilead Ex. Village Schools

Beth MacLehose

Dempsey Middle School - Delaware City Schools

Smart Board Basics – March 4 – 7:30-8:30 p.m.

Smart Boards are interactive, hands-on, minds-on technology tools that support students as they demonstrate what they know in multiple ways. This session covers basic information on Smart Boards and their use in the classroom.

John Foust

GTA Dept. of Education T&L - The Ohio State University, Mansfield

Google Docs – April 8 – 6:30-7:30 p.m.

Google Docs provides an online writing space with all the tools necessary for student writing. Even better, Google docs can be shared and edited collaboratively. In this session, you'll open a Google account and learn the basics of creating, editing, and sharing documents online – no fancy word processor needed!

Terri Godby

Hannah Crawford Elementary - Colonel Crawford Schools

Blogging in the Classroom – April 8 – 7:30-8:30 p.m.

Developing writing, sharing ideas, reflecting on work, getting feedback are just some of the uses of blogs – a kind of on-line journal – in the classroom. What's more, kids love blogging! In this session, you will create your own blog and learn some innovative uses for blogs in the classroom.

Dr. Susan Delagrangue

Department of English - The Ohio State University, Mansfield